About this document

When to use this target market determination

This target market determination (TMD) seeks to provide existing and potential members, distributors, and staff with an understanding of the class of members for which this product is likely to be appropriate, having regard to the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the target market.

This document is not to be treated as a full summary of the product's features and risks and is not intended to provide financial advice. Individuals must refer to the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) when making a decision about this product.

Product disclosure statement to which this target market determination applies

This TMD applies to Equip Super Retirement Income, referred to in the following disclosure document:

- Equip Super Retirement Income PDS

The target market for this product

Equip Super Retirement Income is a retirement product designed to manage and invest individuals' superannuation savings and allow them to draw a regular income within the tax-free superannuation environment.

Superannuation is largely compulsory and designed to cater for all Australians. The target market for this product comprises of the following class of consumers:

- existing Equip Super members who have met the eligibility criteria for release of superannuation money; and
- individuals from another Australian superannuation fund who have met the eligibility criteria for release of superannuation money.

The product can also be accessed by individuals who are permanently incapacitated or beneficiaries of death benefits wishing to receive those benefits as an income stream. Their situation does not fit the typical characteristics of individuals accessing this product.

This product is not designed for individuals who are still saving for their retirement and wanting to make contributions, or individuals who have not met a condition of release.

The product has key attributes that make it likely to meet the objectives, financial situation and needs of the target market:

- a regular, flexible income stream in retirement, while ensuring compliance with pension regulations, including entry eligibility criteria and minimum draw down restrictions; and
- a choice of investment options, to enable individuals to select investments according to their investment objectives and risk appetite, including a default strategy called MyPension.

Typical characteristics of individuals in this product include:

Who	Individuals wanting to access their superannuation savings to provide them with a flexible income. They must have met the eligibility criteria for release of superannuation money.*
Typical age	Individuals age 59 to 65 and over, depending on an individual's age and employment situation.
Industry, occupation, employment status	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Retired ■ Employed ■ Not employed
Typical financial situation	Individuals with at least $25,000 in superannuation or retirement products to open an account.
Likely objectives	Individuals wanting to obtain a regular income stream or receive lump sum payments, while investing their savings in the market through a tax-free investment vehicle.

Criteria for release of an individual's superannuation savings include:

- the individual must be 65 or older; or
- they have permanently retired from the workforce and are older than 59; or
- they have reached age 60 and have ceased employment or changed employment since turning 60.

Product description and key attributes

Equip Super Retirement Income provides members with a regular, flexible income stream in retirement, while ensuring compliance with account-based pension regulations, including entry eligibility criteria and minimum draw down restrictions.

The key attributes of the product are:

- A choice of investment options, including seven (7) diversified and four (4) single sector investment options so members can tailor their investments according to their financial goals and risk tolerance.
- For members wanting to outsource their investment decision, it offers an automated investment strategy (MyPension), which allocates their balance to three distinct investments options.
- Members can draw down a regular income at intervals suited to their needs.
- They can choose between a nominated amount, or set it to the minimum amount.
- They can also access ad-hoc lump sums as required.
- Members can make a reversionary, binding or non-binding beneficiary nomination to advise how their account should be treated should they die.

Investments

Individuals who fall within the target market for the investment options offered in Equip Super Retirement Income:

Investment options available	Individuals meeting a condition of release
Diversified options	In target market
Sector specific options	In target market

Product description and key attributes - investments

Equip Super Retirement Income's investment menu allows members to choose and combine investment options suited to their financial goals and tolerance to risk.

Members can choose from seven diversified and four single sector investment options. The default MyPension investment strategy is for members who do not wish to select an investment option.*

While all options are designed to be appropriate for members who want to invest for their retirement, they do not take individual members' particular circumstances or needs into account. Members will need to consider their age, their time horizon, the likely risk and return profile of each option, and their own circumstances and needs, before investing. Options vary as to whether they target capital growth or income in the short, medium or long term.

As summarised below, each investment option has a specific investment objective, risk characteristics and time horizon. This information allows members to compare options offered by Equip Super Retirement Income with those of other superannuation funds. Members can invest in one or more investment options.

The PDS provides more details on each option offered.
