Transition to Retirement Pension (TRP)

Income while you work

What is a TRP?
If you are over your preservation age and under age 65, you can start drawing on your super benefits as regular pension payments. You can even work and take an income from your super at the same time.

This may appeal to you if you want to reduce your working hours, but still maintain your income, or if you simply don't feel ready to permanently leave the work force, but need additional income. It can also enable you to earn and save more tax-effectively.

Some features of the TRP include:
- Choice of Equip investment options and which option/s you want your income drawn from.
- Flexibility over pension payments provided the amounts you choose stay within the minimum and maximum income limits set by law.
- Flexibility of income payment frequency. You can choose fortnightly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly and annual payments.
- Your income is tax-free if you are aged 60 or over.

Calculating your income
Rules apply on how much income you can draw from your TRP. Generally you can choose an income level between a minimum of 4% and a maximum of 10% of your account balance at commencement of your TRP.

On 1 July each year, we will advise you of your account balance and you can then adjust your income for the coming year.

You must stay within these limits for the financial year (or part remaining from the date your pension commenced). If you started your TRP during the financial year, your nominated annual income will be pro-rated for the remainder of the financial year. However, if you elect the maximum amount, the whole 10% will be paid to you in that financial year.

You can change your income or frequency of payments at any time, so long as you remain within the limits applicable for that financial year.

The following example demonstrates how the income limits are calculated:
Bill is 58 years old and still working. He wants to roll $100,000 from his accumulation account into a TRP. Assuming he commences his pension on 1 July 2019, his income limits for the first year would be:

Minimum income
= $100,000 x 4%
= $4,000

Maximum income
= $100,000 x 10%
= $10,000

Bill can elect to draw an annual income amount anywhere between his minimum limit of $4,000 and maximum limit of $10,000, and choose the frequency of payments.

At the commencement of each financial year, the minimum and maximum income limits will be re-calculated using Bill’s 1 July account balance for that year.

No lump sum withdrawals allowed
One of the rules relating to TRPs is that you cannot make lump sum withdrawals or ‘cash in’ your TRP, unless you satisfy a condition of release under the superannuation preservation rules (e.g. you have retired or have reached age 65 etc) or you have an unrestricted non-preserved component.

However, you can stop your TRP at any time and roll the balance into a superannuation accumulation account or another Transition to Retirement pension.

Transfer balance cap
A limit applies to the total amount you can transfer into tax-free retirement income streams, such as an account based pension. This limit, also known as the transfer balance cap, is $1.6 million, and includes any pension accounts or annuities you may have. However, a TRP will only count towards your transfer balance cap when it is in the retirement phase, that is, when you are receiving it after you reach age 65 or after you retire or become permanently incapacitated.

How do I start a TRP?
If you decide to commence a TRP with Equip, you will need to complete the following forms:

- Transition to retirement pension application form. Remember to indicate which pension you are applying for and include any proof of identity documents.
- TFN Declaration form (if you are under age 60)
- Roll your super into Equip form (if rolling funds from another super fund into Equip).

To get your TRP started, you will need a minimum of $25,000 which must be transferred from your existing Equip accumulation account or from another fund.

Please note, once you commence a TRP, you cannot make ongoing contributions to the TRP account. You can, however, continue to make contributions into an accumulation superannuation account.

Applying for a TRP
When completing your application for a TRP, you must provide us with a copy of your bank statement to verify the bank account you want your pension income paid into. We may seek further evidence of your bank account details prior to commencing payments into your account.

This process is to safeguard your pension from fraudulent activity. If you have any queries, please contact our Helpline.
General information about your pension

Your pension account
The money in your pension account at any time is comprised of a number of possible components. They might include:

- At least $25,000 as your initial deposit into your pension account;
- Any other amounts you roll in at the same time (prior to commencing your pension);
- Any positive investment earnings (reflected in unit price increases);
- Less:
  - Your regular pension payments;
  - Any lump sum withdrawals you make (excludes TRP);
  - Any negative investment earnings (reflected in unit price decreases);
  - Fees.

Consolidating your super into your pension
Once you start an Equip pension, you can’t add extra money to it.
If you have money invested in other super funds, you can consolidate them into your Equip super account at the time you open your pension account. We'll need to wait to receive those transfers from other super funds to open your pension account and invest your money.
Otherwise, if you want to add to your pension account later, you will need to:

- cease the pension and roll it back into a super account (provided you are eligible), add the additional funds and then start a new pension;
- keep your existing pension and start another pension with the extra money.

Is a pension for me? Getting advice
Purchasing an Equip pension is something you should consider carefully in the context of your overall financial strategy for your retirement. We recommend you obtain financial advice before entering into an Equip pension to ensure it is the right product for you. Some considerations you should think about include:

- Your financial commitments (both current and on-going)
- Taxation
- Impact on any social security (Centrelink) payments
- Your life expectancy beyond retirement.

Access to member support
Our Helpline 1800 682 626 offers support and can provide you with general information on your account including any account activity and transactions. Helpline service hours are Monday to Friday, from 8:00am to 8:00pm AEST (allow for daylight saving). The Helpline is closed on national public holidays.

Costs
Your costs consist of taxes and fees. For full details, please refer to “Fees and costs". You can only make lump sum withdrawals from an Equip ABP and not from a TRP. For full details on fees and tax you may incur, please refer to “Fees and costs” and “Tax on income and withdrawals”.

Proof of identity requirements
Anti-money laundering and counter terrorism financing (AML/CTF) legislation requires strict customer identification and verification procedures when applying for your pension.
When you commence a pension, request to commute part of your benefit, or request a full payment of your benefit, we will need to verify your identity. You will be notified of these requirements when applying for a pension or when you request a benefit payment.
If you do not provide the required information, your application may not be accepted and any benefit payments may be delayed or even refused.

Cooling-off period
Equip is required by law to allow you a cooling off period.
If you join Equip as a new pension member, you have 14 days to decide if this is the right choice for you from the earlier of:

- the date we send confirmation to you that your application has been processed; or
- the end of the fifth day after the day we issue investment units in the Fund to you.

During this time, known as the “cooling-off period”, you can cancel your membership by contacting Equip. We will return any amounts we have received on your behalf, including money you have rolled in, adjusted for any investment earnings or losses incurred during the period.
Note that this money cannot be returned to you in cash, it must be transferred to another super fund.
General information about your pension

Changing your investment options
You can switch your investments at any time by logging into the members’ area of our website equipsuper.com.au, or by completing the Change your pension investments form available online or from Helpline 1800 682 626.

If we receive your request to switch your investments prior to 4pm AEST/AEDT on a business day, it will be effective using the unit prices for that day. If your request is received after 4pm on a business day, or on a weekend, then the change will be effective the next business day.

Your pension payment drawdown options
When you choose more than one investment option, you can decide whether you would also like to nominate how we drawdown on your investment options to pay your pension.

If you don’t nominate a specific percentage for the drawdown from each of your investment options, then we’ll drawdown payments from each investment option in proportion to the balance in each option at the time we process your payment. This means that if, at the time of payment, 40% of your balance is invested in Balanced Growth and 60% in Conservative, we would draw your pension payment in the same 60:40 ratio from those options.

After an investment switch, we will deduct your pension payments from each of your investments proportionally, unless you specifically instruct us otherwise.

Changing your drawdown options
You can switch your drawdown options at any time by logging into the members’ area of our website equipsuper.com.au, or by completing the Change your pension investments form available online or from Helpline 1800 682 626.

Managing your income

Your income and investments
If your money is invested in more than one investment option, you may nominate the investment option/s from which you would like your income payments made. If you do not nominate the option/s from which you want to be paid, we will draw your payments in direct proportion to your asset allocation. This means if at the time of payment you are invested 40% in Balanced Growth and 60% in Conservative, we would draw your income payments in the same 40:60 ratio from those two portfolios.

If you nominate payments to be drawn from investment options in different proportions to the way you have invested your money, your asset allocation will change as your payments are made.

Important note: No matter which investment options your income payments are made from, and differing investment returns between options will change your asset allocation over time. It is therefore particularly important to regularly monitor your asset allocation against your investment strategy to ensure it still meets your personal and financial objectives.

Choose how often you receive a payment
You can choose to have your pension paid on a fortnightly, monthly, quarterly, half-yearly or annual basis.

Pension payment dates
We make payments directly into your bank account by the due dates listed below, based on the payment frequency you have chosen:

- Fortnightly: every second Thursday.
- Monthly: the 15th of the month or the working day prior if the 15th is a weekend or public holiday.
- Quarterly, half-yearly and annually: You must nominate the first month in which the payment is to be made and subsequent payments will be three, six or twelve months later. Payments will be made on the 15th of that month or the working day prior if the 15th is a weekend or public holiday. Your first pension payment will be made in the payment cycle immediately after your pension has been opened.

Change how often you receive a payment
You can change how often you receive your pension payments at any time by logging into the members’ area of our website equipsuper.com.au, or by completing the Change your pension details form available online or from Helpline 1800 682 626.

Choose the amount you receive
You can nominate an amount that you’d like to receive, or you can decide to just receive the minimum amount.

You can also make an additional lump sum withdrawal at any time in addition to your regular pension payments. Lump sum withdrawals do not count towards your minimum pension amount.

Centrelink tests

Assets
100% of your Equip pension account balance is assessed against the Centrelink assets test.

Income
Under the Centrelink income test, the value of financial investments is deemed to earn a specific rate of return. This is counted as income under the income test, regardless of the actual returns generated, or the actual income received. This includes allocated pensions.

The deeming rates change periodically. For the most recent rates, go to “deeming rules” at humanservices.gov.au/customer/enablers/deeming.
Tax on TRPs

Tax on income

Super income tax benefits
The following provides a general outline of taxation rules that apply to your pension payments. Given the complexity of the tax rules, we recommend you seek professional financial advice based on your circumstances.

There are a number of tax benefits applicable to an Equip TRP. These are as follows:
1. People aged 60 and over receive income payments tax-free
2. Proportional drawdown rules allow under 60s to receive a portion of income tax-free
3. Taxable income offsets available for under 60s

1. Under age 60
If you start a pension, you may be able to receive a portion of your pension income tax-free if the initial amount used to purchase the pension included a tax-free component.

Example
A 58 year old starts a pension with $487,500 made up of the following components:
- $195,000 is from the tax-free component
- $292,500 is from the taxable component
The proportion of the components in the $487,500 becomes:
- Tax-free proportion is 40% ($195,000 / $487,500)
- Taxable proportion is 60% ($292,500 / $487,500)
If the pensioner elected an income of $40,000, the income proportions will be:
- $40,000 x 40% = $16,000 paid as tax-free income
- $40,000 x 60% = $24,000 paid as taxable income and taxed at her applicable marginal rate (for which she will be entitled to a 15% tax offset)

2. Aged 60 or over
If you are aged 60 or over, you will receive your pension payments tax-free. This applies to all Equip pensions.

3. Taxable income and offsets applied
If you are between your preservation age and under age 60, the taxable component of your pension payment will be treated as income. Income tax at your marginal rate plus Medicare levy may be deducted at the time of payment, however, you will receive a 15% tax offset, which will increase your net payment. Equip will automatically apply this offset to your ongoing pension payments. It is important to note that, should you have other assessable income, you may have a tax liability on completion of your tax return.

You can request in writing that Equip does not apply the tax offset. This allows you to defer the 15% tax offset until you complete your tax return. As a result you will have to wait to receive your annual income tax assessment before you can receive any tax concessions to which you may be entitled.

4. Tax on investment earnings
The investment returns on TRP accounts are taxed up to 15%, just as they are in an accumulation account.

Your Tax File Number (TFN)
Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, Equip can collect your Tax File Number (TFN) to be used and disclosed for lawful purposes.

Equip may disclose your TFN to another super fund if and when your benefit is being transferred, unless you have asked us in writing not to disclose it.

You are not required to provide your TFN to Equip, but if you're under 60 not providing it may mean that we are required to deduct tax from your payments at the highest marginal tax rate.

Why providing your TFN is important
If you are under age 60, it is important that you provide Equip with your TFN when you commence an Equip pension.

If you are under 60, and we do not have your TFN, Equip will withhold tax on your pension at the top marginal tax rate. You will have to wait to receive your annual income tax assessment before you can receive any tax concessions to which you may be entitled.

To avoid this, please ensure we have your TFN.

Tax on death benefits
Upon your death, your remaining pension balance will be paid to your dependants as a reversionary pension, if you nominated one when you started your pension, or to a beneficiary as a lump sum.

Tax on reversionary pensions
The tax on reversionary pensions depends on age. If either you or your reversionary pensioner is aged 60 or over, then the pension payments are tax-free. If you are both under age 60, then the taxable component of the pension will be taxed at the reversionary beneficiary's marginal tax rate until they turn 60.

Tax on lump sum death benefits
Lump sum death benefits paid to tax dependants are tax-free.

Dependants for income tax purposes are considered to be:
- your spouse (including a person who is legally married to you, a person with whom you have a relationship registered under State or Territory law or a person with whom you live on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple);
- children, but only those under age 18;
- any person who is financially dependent on you at the time of your death;
- a person with whom you have an interdependency relationship.

If the lump sum is paid to non-tax dependants (such as independent adult children), the taxable component will be taxed at 17% (including 2% Medicare levy).
Beneficiaries - who will get your benefit?

There are a few different ways to let us know how to treat your pension account when you die.

You can nominate a:
- reversionary beneficiary,
- binding beneficiary or beneficiaries, or
- non-binding beneficiary or beneficiaries.

If you don’t make a reversionary beneficiary or binding death benefit nomination or if your nomination is invalid, Equip will make the decision about how to distribute your benefit, but will take into account any non-binding beneficiary nomination you’ve made.

Reversionary beneficiary nomination - payment as a pension

You can nominate one of your dependants listed below as a reversionary beneficiary and, provided the beneficiary you nominate is still your dependant for tax purposes when you die, then we must pay your benefit in line with your nomination:

- your spouse;
- a child under the age of 18;
- a child under the age of 25 who is financially dependent on you;
- a child of any age who suffers from an intellectual, psychiatric, sensory, and/or physical impairment that is permanent or likely to be permanent that results in substantially reduced capacity for communication, learning or mobility and the need for ongoing support services;
- a person who is financially dependent on you; or
- a person in an interdependency relationship with you.

You cannot nominate your estate or legal personal representative as your reversionary beneficiary.

After your death, your eligible reversionary beneficiary will be able to decide whether to receive their benefit as a pension or as a lump sum.

If your reversionary beneficiary is under 25 and not suffering an intellectual, psychiatric disability that requires a person to live in an institution, they can elect to receive their benefit as a pension until they turn 25, at which time they will receive the remainder of the benefit as a lump sum.

You can only nominate a reversionary beneficiary on the application form prior to the commencement of your pension. You cannot change or cancel your reversionary beneficiary once your pension starts.

Binding death benefit nomination - payment as a lump sum

As an Equip member, you can direct us to pay your death benefit as a lump sum to one or more of your dependants and/or legal personal representative by completing a valid Making a death benefit nomination form available from our website, equipsuper.com.au, or by using a Making a death benefit nomination form available online or from Helpline 1800 682 626.

A binding death benefit nomination will only be valid if you complete the form correctly and nominate parties that either meet the definition of a dependant under superannuation law or are a properly appointed legal personal representative.

Binding nominations will only be valid for three years, so we’ll ask you to confirm your nomination at least once every three years. You can, of course, change your nomination at any time by correctly completing a valid form.

A dependant includes:

- your spouse (including a person who is legally married to you,
- a person with whom you have a relationship registered under State or Territory law or a person with whom you live on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple); or
- your children (of any age including natural, adopted, step or ex-nuptial children and children of your spouse); or
- a person, whether related to you or not, who in the opinion of Equip, is or was at any relevant time wholly or partially financially dependent on you; or
- a person in an interdependency relationship with you.

An interdependency relationship is:

- a close personal relationship where two people live together, and one or each of you provide the other with financial support, and domestic support or personal care; or
- a close personal relationship exists but the other requirements for interdependency are not satisfied because of a physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability that requires a person to live in an institution.

Legal personal representative

Your legal personal representative is the person or organisation that:

- you appoint as the executor of your estate; or
- is appointed as an administrator of your estate if you do not have a valid will.

Non-binding death benefit nomination - payment as a lump sum

If you don’t make a reversionary or binding death benefit nomination or you don’t complete the nomination form correctly, Equip will make the decision about how to distribute your death benefit, but will take into account any non-binding nomination you’ve made.

You can make a non-binding death benefit nomination by logging into our website, equipsuper.com.au, or by using a Making a death benefit nomination form available online or from Helpline 1800 682 626.

Family Law and your super

Couples who divorce or separate are able to divide their super entitlements (including pensions) as part of their property settlements. These Family Law rules apply to legally married couples and genuinely separated couples (including de facto couples in all states except Western Australia).

We recommend you seek advice from a licensed financial advisor before finalising an agreement involving your superannuation benefit, as there may be tax, social security and other financial implications arising from splitting your superannuation entitlements.
Understanding your investments

Investment options and performance

We have always taken a long term view of investing and use a combination of in-house management and external specialists to manage our investment portfolios. You can obtain the most recent investment returns and daily unit prices from our website or request information from our Helpline.

Your investment choice

You can invest in one of our five Diversified options, each with asset allocations determined by us or, if it suits your investment plan, you can choose any combination of our Diversified and/or Sector Specific investment options.

The default investment option

If you do not indicate your investment preferences on your application form, we will invest your opening balance in the Conservative investment option. You can make changes to your investments by logging into the members’ area of our website equipsuper.com.au, or by completing the Change your pension investments form available online or from Helpline 1800 682 626.

Investment principles

Before you select any investment options, you need to:

- assess your own individual needs and objectives; and
- work out your own attitude to investing.

The information provided in this section is general advice. It has been prepared without taking into account your investment objectives, personal circumstances, and particular needs. You should speak to a licensed financial planner who can help you achieve your financial goals within your own risk tolerance.

Note that the value of investments can go up and down. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance.

There are four important investment fundamentals that you might want to take into account when making your investment selection:

1. Risk tolerance

Investment risk refers to the likelihood of negative returns and loss of capital over various timeframes. Generally, growth assets such as shares and property are more volatile and their values may fluctuate widely, particularly over the short term. Defensive assets, such as fixed interest and cash, are generally less volatile and fluctuate less in value than growth assets.

How much volatility you are prepared to accept will depend on your own attitude to investments, your previous experiences, your investment timeframe and your life expectancy (among other things). Your risk profile will greatly influence your investment selection and the weightings in growth and defensive assets (asset allocations).

2. Risk versus return

Generally, growth assets may outperform defensive assets over the long term, but have a higher degree of risk (negative returns) along the way. Defensive assets generally provide a lower rate of return, but are less risky, and historically less volatile.

3. Diversification

Diversification is a method of reducing investment risk. It means spreading your investments both across, and within, asset classes. The principle is that the more you diversify, the more you may be able to reduce investment risk. It is important to understand that there is a level of risk with all investments, and you can never totally remove investment risk.

4. Timeframe to invest

It is important to work out your investment timeframe. Generally, defensive asset allocations are better suited to short-term investment time frames. However, superannuation is generally seen as a long term investment.

Your strategy

An important part of successful investing is to set a strategy for the long term and regularly monitor investment performance to ensure it is meeting your personal objectives. Before making any decisions about investing your money, you should seek advice on this from a licensed financial advisor.

Switching

Frequent switching between investment options and trying to second-guess the market can be risky. You should switch only after a thorough review of your long-term investment strategy. We recommend you obtain financial advice before making any decisions about switching between investment options.

Derivatives

Derivatives are investments where investment values are based on those of an underlying physical security. For instance, the value of a share option is based on the price of the underlying share. Equip permits the selective use of derivatives as part of its investment strategy in any of its investment options. Derivatives enable us to hedge against risk by increasing or decreasing exposure to individual securities and markets without having to buy or sell underlying physical securities.

Unit prices

When you invest with Equip, your money buys a number of units in each of your nominated or default investment options. Unit prices go up and down according to investment performance and the unit price of an investment option will fluctuate to reflect investment earnings (which can be positive and/or negative) and deductions for investment fees, costs and taxes. These movements are ultimately reflected in your account balance.

Our latest unit prices are usually updated on our website by 10 a.m. on the second business day after the business day on which they are calculated. The publication of unit prices might be delayed as a consequence of abnormal market conditions or system failures. In such circumstances, Equip will use its best endeavours to publish unit prices as soon as possible.

The unit prices are calculated after an estimate of investment fees and taxes are taken out. These estimates will be adjusted as information becomes available for the calculation of future prices.

When you exit from Equip, your units are sold at the applicable unit price of your nominated or default investment options.
Understanding your investments

What happens if we make a mistake when calculating unit prices?

Although we have controls in place to check for unit pricing errors, occasionally they may occur. Equip follows industry practice if an error is made. Interested members can view FSC Standard No.17 on the Financial Services Council website at fsc.org.au

Sustainable Responsible Investment Option

Equip members can access Sustainable Responsible Investments (SRI) via a Sector Specific option that almost entirely invests in Australian shares. The investments of the option comprise a portfolio run by Equip which replicates the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia, an index established and tracked by RobecoSAM. The option utilises the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia, a float-adjusted market capitalisation weighted index which is comprised of approximately 70 companies selected by RobecoSAM from a universe of approximately 200 of the largest Australian listed companies.

The companies selected by RobecoSAM for inclusion in the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia are assessed as leading their industry peers in terms of sustainable business practices. The Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia is designed to create a portfolio that captures the performance of Australia’s sustainability leaders with characteristics similar to those of the broader Australian equity market (as represented by the S&P/ASX 200 Index).

* Note that the Diversified options do not include the Sustainable Responsible Investments option. Rather, the Diversified options use the Australian Shares option to gain Australian equity exposure.

 The index will vary over time due to a range of influences including but not limited to changes made by RobecoSAM to the corporate sustainability assessment and due to other changes that Australian equity portfolios are typically subject to, such as market movements and company related events. In addition, there may be modest variations between the Equip portfolio and the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia due to a number of influences, such as rounding and timing differences.

The Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia is a product of S&P Dow Jones Indices LLC and/or its affiliates and RobecoSAM AG ("RobecoSAM"), and has been licensed for use by Togethr Trustees Pty Ltd. Togethr Trustees Pty Ltd’s product(s) are not sponsored, endorsed, sold or promoted by S&P Dow Jones Indices LLC, Dow Jones, S&P, RobecoSAM or any of their respective affiliates (collectively, “S&P Dow Jones Indices”). S&P Dow Jones Indices make no representation or warranty, express or implied, to the owners of the Togethr Trustees Pty Ltd’s product(s) or any member of the public regarding the advisability of investing in securities generally or in Togethr Trustees Pty Ltd’s Product(s) particularly or the ability of the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia to track general market performance.

The process used by RobecoSAM to select companies for the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia is called the corporate sustainability assessment. This is a proprietary methodology designed to score companies in terms of corporate sustainability with a focus on their ranking within industry sectors. RobecoSAM carries out the corporate sustainability assessment by asking ASX listed companies (excluding investment companies) to complete a questionnaire and provide supporting documentation. RobecoSAM also uses publicly available information and data and carries out a media and stakeholder analysis. The media and stakeholder analysis involves RobecoSAM analysts reviewing final assessments and scores to determine if they are fair and accurate given more recent developments and news.

The criteria and weightings which RobecoSAM uses to assess and rate companies in terms of corporate sustainability include both general and industry specific criteria, and cover the economic, environmental and social or labour dimensions outlined below:

■ Economic

Economic criteria not only reflect the financial robustness, strategic planning processes and governance but also how a company adapts to changing market demands, sustainability trends and macro-economic driving forces. These criteria measure a company’s ability to make use of the economic benefits from sustainability opportunities and risks.

■ Environmental

Environmental criteria cover the environmental management and performance of a company. These criteria measure a company’s efforts to reduce and avoid environmental pollution.

■ Social and labour

Social criteria cover both internal (employee relations and labour practices) and external (stakeholder and community relations) aspects. Social criteria are based on worldwide minimum standards and best practices and also take into account the manner in which companies deal with human rights issues internally, in their supply chain and in the communities in which they operate.

Weighting and portfolio construction

The weighting given to economic, environmental and social considerations can vary substantially over time and across industries. Based on major global sustainability challenges identified by RobecoSAM’s analysts, general criteria relating to standard management practices and performance measures, such as corporate governance, human capital development and risk and crisis management, are defined and applied to each of the sectors. The general criteria account for approximately 40% to 50% of the assessment, depending on the sector. At least 50% of the questionnaire covers industry-specific risks and opportunities that focus on economic, environmental and social challenges and trends that are particularly relevant to companies within that industry.

Based on RobecoSAM’s corporate sustainability assessments, companies are ranked within their industry group and selected for the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia, if they are among the sustainability leaders in their field.

How the Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia works

The Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia includes leading stocks in terms of sustainable business practices from approximately 21 RobecoSAM Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia industry sectors. The Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia is reviewed annually and rebalanced quarterly to ensure that the index composition accurately represents the top 30% of the leading sustainable Australian companies in each of the 21 Dow Jones Sustainability Index Australia sectors respectively. Most companies have a primary listing on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) but others may be included if they have adequate liquidity on the ASX and have a significant part of their business operations in Australia.
Understanding your investments

Managing your investments

Equip’s Investment Committee, comprised of directors and external advisors, sets the strategy and manages our investments.

External investment managers are used to provide members with the advantages of different investment management styles.

Different styles enable us to identify and take advantage of diverse opportunities with the potential to enhance returns to members and to manage risk.

You can find a list of our current investment managers on our website www.equipsuper.com.au.

Comparing performance

You can compare Equip’s investment performance against other funds. Equip’s most up-to-date performance can be found on the website, www.equipsuper.com.au, where you can see how the Equip options compare with the median performance of similar investment options in the SuperRatings industry survey. You may also find more information on Equip’s portfolio holdings there. Investment performance for accumulation accounts is net of tax and investment expenses, but also includes other indirect investment costs.

However, if you are comparing our performance with that of other funds, it is important to ensure you take into account the underlying asset allocations, the investment related tax expenses/benefits and the objectives and management styles for the investment options you are comparing.

Any variation in these factors can result in significant differences in the performance of the investment options you are considering.

You should also be aware that past performance is no indication of future performance for Equip or any other superannuation fund.

Investment objectives

The investment objectives for the Diversified investment options aim to earn investment returns higher than the inflation rate. Inflation is measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI) published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS), which indicates the average change in prices paid for a ‘basket’ of goods and services.

The investment objectives are not forecasts or predictions. They simply represent a benchmark against which the Trustee monitors performance.

Apart from the Sector Specific SRI option, Equip does not take into account any specific ethical, social, labour standards or environmental considerations in making the investment options available to members.

Strategy

While the investment objective states the investment aim, the strategy provided for each option is a guide to how we intend to go about achieving the objective.

You should note that these objectives are not predictions or forecasts, but merely represent a performance measure for each strategy.

Benchmark allocations and permitted ranges

The pie charts describing asset allocations set out here are based on benchmark (or long-term, strategic) allocations for the Diversified investment options.

Actual asset allocations may vary from the benchmark allocations within permitted ranges from time to time depending on market movements, cash flows and tactical investment decisions.

In particular, we may alter asset allocations within the permitted ranges to manage investments through adverse or abnormal market conditions.

Standard risk measure

The standard risk measure is based on industry guidance to allow members to compare investment options that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period.

The standard risk measure is not a complete assessment of all forms of investment risk. For instance, it does not detail what the size of a negative return could be or the potential for a positive return to be less than what you may require to meet your objectives and it is based on predictions of the future economic environment which may change over time. Further, it does not take into account the impact of administration fees and tax on the likelihood of a negative return.

You should ensure that you are comfortable with the risks and potential losses associated with your chosen investment options and if necessary you should seek professional financial advice. Equip does not guarantee the performance of the Fund. And, as mentioned, past performance is not an indicator of future performance.

Balancing risk & return

There is risk associated with any investment, but some asset classes have historically proven to be less volatile, that is, less prone to up and down fluctuations than others.

Risks
There is risk that investment returns are not what you expect and may be negative. Levels of investment risk are linked to the asset classes in which you have invested and a host of external factors such as investment market fluctuations, political and economic changes, natural disasters, pandemics and man-made influences such as outbreaks of war or terrorist acts.

Clearly, there is little you can do about external forces affecting your investments, but you strongly influence outcomes through your choice of investment options.

As a rule of thumb, some growth investments that carry a greater risk may deliver higher returns over the long term. However, they can also produce negative results, particularly over shorter terms. As such, extended investment periods may be appropriate for investors with significant exposure to shares and property.

Returns
We present investment earnings as net returns in our reports. This is the return after tax and investment fees are accounted for. When you compare Equip with other funds, you should ensure that their returns are after tax and investment fees are taken out.

Refer to “Diversified options and performance” and “Sector Specific options and performance” for information on the returns associated with our investment options.

The risk and return for Diversified and Sector Specific options
For Diversified options, you should consider the relative influence of the predominant asset classes in which they are invested. For example, in Balanced Growth, the risk is primarily influenced by the growth assets, shares and property.

When you invest in Sector Specific options, you are exposed to the performance of specific asset classes. If you choose Sector Specific options, we suggest that you consider diversifying your investment and spreading your risk. You should review your asset allocation at least once a year to ensure it is still consistent with your objectives.

To help you understand more about the asset classes available to you through Equip and the risks associated with them, we suggest you read the information on these two pages.

Get advice
Everyone’s tolerance to risk is different and often changes as we progress through life. If you are unfamiliar with the behaviour of investment markets and the economic influences on them, you should seek the advice of a licensed financial advisor.

A licensed financial advisor can assist you to identify your goals and determine the right balance of risk and return for you in the context of your personal circumstances and goals.

Shares
Investors acquire an ownership stake in a company via shares (sometimes also called equities). Shares are usually listed on stock exchanges. For example, Australian shares are listed on the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX); shares in the United States may be listed on a number of exchanges, such as the New York Stock Exchange or the NASDAQ; and so on.

The expected return of shares is higher than the returns generated by some other asset classes, but the risk associated with the asset class is greater.

Equip invests its shares in two distinct buckets: Australian shares and shares domiciled overseas. Overseas shares open up a wide range of investment opportunities. Australian shares make up only about 3% of the worldwide share market. Investing in overseas share markets allows us to broadly diversify our share holdings across companies, sectors and countries. A large proportion of Equip’s overseas shares portfolio is invested in the world’s largest sharemarket, the US. We also have some investments in so-called emerging markets, such as in Asia and South America.

An attractive feature of Australian shares is that the Fund receives franking credits from some of its share investments. Franking credits are tax credits available to investors for income earned in the form of fully franked dividends by listed companies. If a dividend is franked, it means it has been paid out of the company’s retained earnings after tax has been paid. For investments in overseas shares, the Fund does not get any franking credits, but may receive some withholding tax credits.

In the Diversified options, you are invested in both Australian and overseas shares. Within the Sector Specific options, you can invest in Australian Shares only, or you can get exposure to the international share markets by investing in the Overseas Shares option.

Risk
Sharemarkets go up and down, but generally trend upward over the long term. The risk associated with share investments is linked to economic trends both in Australia and overseas, interest rate movements, political change, consumer spending, employment levels, inflation, investor confidence – a complex mix of financial measures.

The long-term upward trend for share markets is due to the growth in the capital value of companies. The risk, of course, is that some companies will fall out of favour or disappear altogether, which is why we invest in a number of companies and industry sectors.

An added risk when investing in international shares is currency fluctuations. If you are investing in overseas markets in Australian dollars, the value of your investment will decline if the Australian dollar’s value increases substantially against other currencies. Of course, the opposite is true if the Australian dollar’s value declines. To offset some of this risk, we may partially “hedge” against currency fluctuations, depending on our assessment of likely currency movements.

Because of the long-term growth cycle of shares, it is prudent to plan to hold such investments for extended periods of time. You may experience some years of zero or even negative returns in shares but, if you can invest over time, they will generally deliver a positive return.
Balancing risk & return

Property
This asset class involves investing in properties, such as shopping centres, office buildings and factories.

The costs involved in developing and purchasing prime real estate are substantial, and successfully managing it requires yet another set of skills. Thus rather than owning real estate directly, we buy exposure to the asset class through investment trusts, when we believe these have the potential to deliver good long-term investment returns. The property trusts may be listed or unlisted and may include both Australian and international investments.

An advantage of using trusts for property investment is that it is generally easier to sell shares or units to other investors, rather than having to sell actual buildings. Furthermore, trusts allow us to further diversify our exposure to the asset class.

If you invest in any of the Diversified options you are invested in property, you can also choose it as a Sector-Specific option.

Risk
Some people often get the sense that property prices never go down. We feel comfortable with ‘bricks and mortar’ investments because, among other things, they include our own home. However, there are risks associated with property investments, linked to economic drivers like employment levels, consumer confidence and, in particular, interest rates.

Like shares, the long-term trend in property prices is upwards, but the market can flatten out and even be negative, particularly if there are sustained rises in interest rates. Historically, returns on property have been higher than bonds over the longer term but with higher risk.

We hedge any currency exposure we may have through our overseas property holdings fully back into the Australian dollar, so there is no currency risk.

Infrastructure
Infrastructure provides essential services to the public, ensuring economies work smoothly. Infrastructure encompasses a broad range of assets, such as toll roads, airports, water utilities and power generation facilities, pipelines, schools and health care facilities, to name a few.

Infrastructure assets tend to have a long lifespan and are thus generally well suited for long-term investors, such as super funds. Returns from infrastructure are generated from both capital growth of the assets as well as the long-term income streams derived from them.

Equip can invest in infrastructure, both directly and via unlisted and listed investment trusts. With infrastructure, we can further diversify the risk and return of our investment options.

All Diversified options with the exception of the Conservative option have a benchmark allocation to infrastructure.

Risk
As we do not offer direct investments for members in infrastructure, the risks associated with such assets are captured in the risk profiles of the Diversified investment options.

Infrastructure assets are subject to some price volatility. Equip prefers to invest in assets which are relatively mature and have actual cash flows.

Fixed interest
Fixed interest securities, also called fixed income or bonds, are issued by federal and state governments, as well as by companies. If you buy a bond, it usually entitles you to regular payments of interest over a fixed period plus the return of your investment at the end of the period. Our fixed interest investments include both Australian and overseas bonds. They may also include indexed bonds, which are similar to other diversified fixed interest investments except that their returns are increased (indexed) each year by the amount of inflation. They offer good insurance against a rise in inflation with similar risk and return to fixed interest.

Fixed interest is an integral part of the strategic allocation of all the Diversified investment options, bar Growth Plus, and you can also invest in a Sector Specific option.

Risk
The bond market is a complex trading environment, driven by economic factors, investor sentiment towards growth assets like shares and interest rate movements. In a rising interest rate environment, bonds can lose some of their capital value.

Over the long term, fixed interest delivers lower returns than equities and property. However, there are times when the regular income payments that fixed interest provides make this type of investment attractive.

We hedge any currency exposure we may have through overseas fixed interest securities fully back into the Australian dollar, so there is no currency risk.

Growth and defensive alternatives
Alternatives are assets that allow our investment managers to take advantage of special investment opportunities that may arise. Equip has divided the alternatives asset class into growth alternatives and defensive alternatives.

Growth alternatives include investments such as private equity, multi-asset portfolios and hedge funds. Defensive alternatives include credit portfolios.

Risk
The risks associated with well-selected alternatives depend on the type of investment. As we do not currently offer direct investments for members in the alternatives asset classes, their risk profiles are captured within our Diversified investment options.

Cash
This is not just money in the bank but also money invested for a short time in money market securities such as bank term deposits and bank bills.

All Diversified options have a benchmark allocation to cash, with the exception of Growth Plus. You can also invest in a Sector Specific option.

Risk
The risk associated with cash investments (money in the bank and term deposits) is generally minimal, although the investment upside is also minimal. Cash is a safe haven in times of economic uncertainty, occasionally you may wish to preserve capital by allocating some of your super to cash.
Fees and costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This document shows fees and costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your account, from the returns on your investment or from the Fund assets as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees and advice fees for personal advice, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity and advice chosen by you.

Example of annual fees and costs

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs in the Conservative investment option can affect your superannuation investment over a one year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other superannuation products.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Example – The Conservative investment option</th>
<th>Balance of $50,000</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Investment fees</td>
<td>0.19% p.a.</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>PLUS Indirect costs for the Conservative option</td>
<td>0.23% p.a.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>EQUALS cost of product</td>
<td>$465</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For every $50,000 you have in the Conservative option you will be charged $95 each year.

AND you will be charged $130 in administration fees regardless of your balance, plus $125.

AND indirect costs of $115 each year will be deducted from your investment.

If your balance was $50,000, then for that year you will be charged fees of $465 for the Conservative option.

If your account balance is below $6,000

If your account balance is less than $6,000 at the end of the financial year, the total combined amount of administration fees, investment fees and indirect costs charged to you is capped at 3% of the account balance. At the end of each financial year (or if you are leaving Equip), we will check and refund any excess fees charged. You’ll see any of those types of refunds on your statement.

| An investment fee is a fee that relates to the investment of the assets of a superannuation entity and includes:

   b) costs that relate to the investment of assets of the entity, other than:

If the manager exceeds the hurdle, we will apportion the amount of the fee payments to the unit prices of those investment options to which the fee relates. Unit prices will be adjusted monthly to reflect actual performance payments to external managers.
Performance fees cannot be known precisely in any given year, since the managers’ outperformance cannot be anticipated. However, we have provided an estimate of the performance fees in this PDS. The performance fees may exceed this estimate, they may be lower or they may not be paid at all. |

Fees and costs

More information on tax
Refer to the ‘Tax on income & withdrawals’ section for more information.

Tax benefits passed on to members
Equip claims a tax deduction on the administration fees and insurance premiums we deduct from your account and passes this benefit back to you directly by reducing the amount of tax that is deducted from your account. This means that you essentially receive a 15% refund of your administration fees and insurance premiums.

If you have exposure to Australian shares, tax offsets gained through franking credits are reflected in unit prices.

Other levies
At times, government bodies charge superannuation funds levies to recover the cost of superannuation related projects they undertook. Equip may choose to pass these costs on to members in proportion to their account balance.

Transactional and operational costs
Transactional and operational costs are costs relating to the purchase or sale of the assets of the fund, an underlying fund or other investment vehicle as well as costs associated with managing property investments.

These costs are deducted from the assets of the fund or of the underlying investment vehicle and are an additional cost to you.

Transaction costs include both explicit and implicit costs.

Explicit costs
Explicit costs include, but are not limited to, brokerage, clearing costs, stamp duty on an investment transaction, commissions, buy-sell spreads, due diligence costs, settlement costs and custody fees.

Explicit costs of investments are included in the indirect cost ratio (ICR) for each investment option.

Implicit costs
Implicit costs are embedded in the price of certain investments and include, but are not limited to, a bid/offer spread, which is the difference between the price a buyer is willing to pay (the bid price) and the price a seller is willing to accept (the ask price) for a particular security. Bid/offer spreads may be incurred when buying and selling fixed income securities such as bonds, foreign currency conversions and listed equities.

Many of these implicit costs are estimates as they are not known with certainty. The table following shows the estimated implicit costs for the 12 months to June 2019 for each investment option.

Implicit costs are not included in the investment fee or indirect cost ratio (ICR).

Borrowing costs
Borrowing costs are costs that relate to a credit provided to the superannuation fund trustee, or to entities in which the fund invests. They are additional costs to the investor which are deducted from the underlying assets and not from your account directly; they reduce the earnings returned to the fund. These costs are not included in the investment fee or indirect cost ratio (ICR).

The table following shows the estimated borrowing costs for each investment option for the past 12 months to 30 June 2019.

Property operating costs
Property operating costs include a range of costs associated with managing property investments, for example council and water rates, utilities and lease renewal costs. These costs are not included in the investment fee or indirect cost ratio (ICR).

The table following shows the estimated property operating cost for each investment option for the past 12 months to 30 June 2019.

Changes to fees
Equip can change fees and costs at any time without member consent. We will provide you with written notice of any increase or material change 30 days before it occurs.

When we may automatically transfer your account out of Equip

If you become lost and your account becomes unclaimed money

If mail sent to your last known address is returned at least twice, or if we have never had an address for you, we must notify the ATO that you are a lost member. The ATO will add your name to the Lost Members Register, where you can obtain information about any super accounts in funds that have lost contact with you.

If your benefit becomes ‘unclaimed money’ (as defined in superannuation legislation), your benefit may be transferred to the ATO, where it is held on your behalf until you claim it.

In general, your benefit becomes unclaimed money if:

■ you are a temporary resident and have not claimed your benefit within six months of leaving Australia; or
■ you have reached age 65 and not instructed us about your benefit, we have not received any amounts into the fund for you for at least two years, and we have not been able to contact you for five years; or
■ you meet the definition of being a lost member who is uncontactable or has had an inactive account for more than 12 months and,
■ your account does not support a defined benefit interest;
■ is less than $6,000, or
■ we don’t believe it will be possible to pay your benefit to you in the future; or
■ you have died and your account has been inactive for at least two years and we are unable to ensure that your benefit is received by the persons entitled to receive it.

Changing the Rules

As circumstances change from time to time, the Rules governing the Fund may need to be amended. The Trustee has the power to amend the provisions of the Rules. All amendments must comply with the amendment power in the Rules and also with any applicable Government requirement.

The Trustee will inform members in writing of the nature, purpose and effect of an amendment if and when required to do so by relevant law.
General information

The Equip Board
The Equip Board consists of three member directors, three employer directors, and three independent directors. The directors appoint a Chair who must be one of the three independent directors. The directors must satisfy certain requirements to hold office in accordance with relevant legislation.

Current biographical information on our Chair and directors is available on our website.

Trustee expenses and liabilities
The directors receive remuneration from Equip. The directors and the Trustee may be reimbursed and indemnified (protected) for all expenses and liabilities which they incur in administering your account.

The Trustee has also effected trustee indemnity insurance to cover the directors, officers and the Fund in the event of claims. However, this does not include:

- Liabilities arising from fraud or dishonesty; and
- Amounts, such as penalties, for which indemnification is not permitted under legislation.

Risks of investing
Apart from the investment risks detailed in the section “Balancing risk and return”, there are other risks that may be considered when deciding to invest.

When investing, there are other significant risks to consider, which may include, but are not limited to these risks:

| Risks associated with market failure or crashes: | There is a risk that markets can fail; financial collapses can have a negative impact on super benefits. Market crashes can be exacerbated by negative investor sentiment. If such events occurred, your benefit could be less than the total amount of your contributions. |
| Changes to government policy and legislation: | Legislative changes may affect your benefit or your ability to access your benefit, such as changes to concessional contribution caps and changes to preservation rules. |
| Increases in the rate of inflation: | There is a risk that inflation may exceed the return on your investments. If inflation is higher than your investment returns, then this will diminish the value of your benefits. |
| Interest rate risk: | As interest rates change, they can impact investment returns positively or negatively. Generally, as interest rates rise, the price of fixed interest securities (bonds) will fall; if rates fall, the price of bonds tends to go up. These impact returns both positively and negatively across investment options. |
| The volatility of exchange rates: | When investing in overseas assets, such as international equities, international bonds and international property, the value of your investment will fluctuate with the value of the Australian dollar. To offset this currency risk in international investments, some super funds partially or fully hedge against currency fluctuations. Equip may fully or partially hedge against currency risk. |
| Liquidity risk: | There is a risk that an investment may not be sold quickly enough to prevent a loss. This can affect all asset classes super funds generally invest in. |
| Economic instability: | Economic instability makes investing in securities from areas or countries that suffer from instability risky, and may negatively impact your super investments. |
| Natural disasters and force majeure events: | Such events can negatively affect your investments. |
| Custodian failure: | The risk that a custodian fails to perform its operational duties. Equip’s custodian is National Australia Bank Limited. |
| Counter-party risk: | There is a risk that a party in a contract will not live up to its contractual obligations and will be unable to make the required payments on a debt. This is often also referred to as default risk. |
| Failure of international payments systems: | The risk that international payment systems fail to operate, thus impacting your super investments. |
| Longevity risk: | The risk that you are going to outlive your super savings. |
| Changes to investment options or products: | The Trustee could add, change or remove investment options or products offered. |
